Participants are asked to commit to attend all 4 sessions.

This free, four-part series of online workshops will help parents understand the important role they have in positions of leadership.

As a parent, there are many opportunities to add your voice, knowledge and experience to local, county and state boards that support families of children with disabilities.

- Leadership opportunities on local, county and state boards
- Learn your leadership style
- Discuss the importance of early childhood Inclusion
- Your mission: taking your involvement to the next level.

Who should attend? Parents of children birth to 8 years old who:

- receive or have received Early On[®] services
- current Local Interagency Coordinating Council (LICC) representatives
- are interested in serving on local, county, and state boards.
